Club Rules

"The only real elegance is in the mind, if you've got that the rest really comes from it",

Diana Vreeland

Membership and Renewal

1. Membership shall be valid for 12 months from the date of membership being granted to the applicant or being renewed. The management reserves the right to refuse application for initial or renewed membership. The management shall be under no obligation to explain the reason for any refusal to grant or renew membership.
2. Memberships are non-transferable.
4. A member may not suspend his or her membership for any period of time.
5. Should a member wish to cancel his or her membership, notice must be given in writing to our Head of Memberships. Three calendar months notice must be given should a member wish to terminate their membership, during which time, normal subscription rates apply.

Entrance to the club

1. Members may bring with them to the club 4 non-member guests without prior arrangement and free of any entrance fee.
2. Members must however inform the management should they be expecting any guests to arrive before their own arrival as such guests will not be permitted without prior notification and must remain in the waiting area until the members' arrival.
3. Additional guests may be accommodated by prior arrangement. Members must telephone the Club before 6pm on the night in question to request a "guest list" if they wish to bring more than 4 non-member guests. The number of additional guests any member shall be permitted to invite shall be at the discretion of the management and may be subject to a cover charge.
4. The management always reserves the right to refuse admission of a member's guest and is under no obligation to explain the reason for such refusal.
5. Membership does not always guarantee admission. The management are required under various laws and regulations not to exceed the designated capacity of the premises. Once capacity has been reached the management shall operate a "one out, one in" policy.
6. Occasionally areas of the Club may be reserved for private functions and entrance to members may be restricted or denied as appropriate.
7. Residence does not employ a strict dress code, however members are advised to exercise discretion with their attire and to inform their guests of such.

Conduct whilst on the premises

1. Members shall be responsible for the conduct of their guests and shall ensure that such guests do not themselves breach or cause any member to breach any of these rules or regulations.
2. No member or guest of any member shall carry on or be engaged in, anywhere within the premises of the Club, any profession, business, trade or conduct which is or may be prejudicial to the welfare and/or reputation of the Club or which in any way or to any extent is or may be illegal or disreputable.

3. Members and their guests must respect the privacy of fellow members and their guests. No member or any guest shall reveal directly or indirectly to any media source the identity of other members or their guests or discuss their conduct or the company they keep.
4. Members and their guests must follow the instructions given to them by any member of the staff whilst on the premises of the Club including vacating the premises if requested to do so.
5. Members and their guests must respect the premises and property of the Club and treat the staff at all times with courtesy and good manners.
6. If any member may have a complaint about any person on the staff team then such complaint should be directed to the management and not the staff member in question.
7. The management reserves the right to refuse alcohol to any member or guest if it is in the best interests of the Club and other members to do so.
8. Members will have the facility to open a credit account with the Club which can be credited by cash, credit card or cheque. Each member will be responsible for payment of any outstanding bill of his or her guest if such guest does not settle his or her bill.
9. Members' guests are not permitted to remain on the premises after the member has left the club.
10. If any member or a members guest is inebriated and management feel they will cause danger or discomfort to themselves or any other member or guest in the club, the management have the right to escort them from the club and this may lead to expulsion as a member from the club.

Breach of these Rules and Regulations

1. If any member shall breach any of these rules and regulations or if any member shall introduce a guest to the Club who shall breach any of these rules or regulations then the management shall be entitled to expel the relevant member and/or the relevant guest or any number of such member's guests from the premises immediately. The management shall also be entitled to cancel the relevant members' membership and on notification to him or her in writing or in person at the premises, then he or she will cease to be a member.
2. Any member whose membership shall be cancelled for reasons of breach of these rules or other misconduct shall not be entitled to enter the premises as another member's guest at any point in the future.

General

1. The property of members or their guests whether or not entrusted to any member of staff, or left in the cloakroom or elsewhere on the premises shall be at the sole risk of the relevant member or the relevant guest and the Club shall not be responsible for the loss or damage to any such property.
2. Pets are permitted but must remain in the garden.
3. Mobile phones must be placed on silent in the club and we request that telephones call be made and received in such a way as not to disturb other members.
4. Under no circumstances whatsoever is food or drink which is purchased outside the Club permitted into the venue. Management has the right to safe keep or confiscate the items at their discretion.
5. Photography and photo shoots are not permitted in the club without prior arrangement with management.
6. Complimentary services offered to our members such as concierge and lifestyle management may be subject to additional charges and be ceased at any time without prior notice to our members.
